Kingdom BUILDERS

2018 PROJECT GUIDE

THE KINGDOM BUILDERS COMMUNITY

So That All May Hear

Jesus Christ said while on earth, “I will build my church and the gates of hell will not prevail.”

Kingdom Builders is our way of leading this great commission through a community who faithfully give above and beyond.

This community, open to all, is built of individuals and families that prayerfully commit to give, over and above their tithes, to global missions, local church expansion, and future Christian leaders. “We are blessed to be a blessing,” our Lead Pastor Rob Ketterling often reminds us.

“God doesn’t use superstars to do this. He looks at His church and says, ‘Who has something I can use? Who has something they are willing to give? Who will step out of the boat and have some faith?’ He wants to use regular people like you and me.”

The Bible shows us that Jesus gave all He had to reach the lost, and that there is no greater love than this. He asks us not to hold back in our own sacrifice for the Kingdom.

Everything we do today is about building His church around the world. Nothing can stand in His way and wherever the church is needed most, Kingdom Builders is going to be there.

We give so all may hear of His love and lives will be changed.

Global Missions

Jesus commands us to go into all the world and preach the Gospel, making disciples of all nations. River Valley Church gives 10% of the church’s general tithe to missionaries and missions organizations, and through Kingdom Builders gives above and beyond. As of January 2018, 279 missionaries are financially supported by River Valley Church. Kingdom Builders also gives us the opportunity to support key missions projects such as providing humanitarian aid, church planting, vehicles, resources, and pastoral development. Everyone, in every nation, deserves a chance to hear the Gospel.

Local Church Expansion

“The local church is the light of the world,” Jesus tells us in the Gospel of Matthew. Kingdom Builders is committed to funding the growth of the church locally through expanding our own campuses, planting life-giving, Spirit-filled churches in our communities, and ministering to the hurting in our own backyards. We do not do this for comfort, extravagant buildings, or praise, but to help more lost people to personally know a loving, Heavenly Father.

Future Christian Leaders

We are committed to raising up the next generation. They are the church today and the church of the future. Paul wrote in the New Testament to Timothy, a young leader, encouraging him to set the example in speech, conduct, love, faith, and purity. Kingdom Builders raises up our future Christian leaders to foster a love for the Bible, God, and the lost and inspires them to change the world. Our Kingdom Builders partnerships work with organizations that care for the physical and spiritual needs of our future leaders from birth through those beginning their career. We want the next generation to be inspired to serve, give, and love more.

ONE MORE FOR YOU, GOD

Kingdom Builders support helps fuel revival in Japan

Under bright neon lights and through the shuffle of thousands of bodies at Tokyo's famous Shibuya Crossing, the sounds of Lifehouse Church caught the attention of Yuya Konno.

The 22-year-old followed the music and found a head-banging street band singing about Jesus and reflecting joy. The curious encounter inspired Konno in a way he had never experienced.

"I realized all of them are really shining from their eyes and their smile was very natural," he said in English through a Japanese accent. "They were not pretending. They were just full of love in that community."

Street ministry through music and language teaching programs have become part of the DNA of Lifehouse International Church when reaching out to Japan's younger generation. In June 2017, the River Valley Church Global Team joined Konno and other Lifehouse Church leaders singing worship songs on a street corner in the heart of Kyoto's Sanjo neighborhood, where thousands flood the sidewalks at all hours.

Konno clapped his hands and bopped his head singing the lyrics, "I can't imagine why I would do this all for hype, 'cause it's all to lift you high." He would pause to shake hands, spark conversations and invite new friends to church, showcasing the same love he experienced just 10 months earlier.

This simple exchange is what changed Konno's heart. He wandered up to that Tokyo street concert believing God did not exist and scoffed at religion. Then his self-image began to change.

“I didn’t have confidence at all. I didn’t know what value I had,” Konno said. “Then I started to go to church several times and God told me one day, ‘I love you so much.’ On that day, I’m totally changed.”

Rod and Viv Plummer, former pastors of a thriving church in Toowoomba, Australia, planted Lifehouse International Church in 2002 and it has matured into one of the largest churches in Japan with locations in nearly every major city and into six other nations in Asia and the Pacific.

The church, last summer, planted seeds in Kyoto, the former imperial capital and often-described “heart” and education hub of the country, with its 17th location. The campus launched with the help of River Valley Church Kingdom Builders’ giving, $100,000, and a team of 12 Minnesotans serving on the first Global Team Japan.

The Kingdom Builders gift also supported the launch of a second Lifehouse Tokyo campus. The funds helped rent venues and equipment to facilitate church in two of the most expensive cities in the world.

On June 18, 2017, nearly 80 individuals packed an underground nightclub less than 50 yards from one of Kyoto’s busiest streets, worshipping and hearing the message of grace, some for the first time.

When the Plummers arrived in Japan 15 years ago, statistics and history argued the Gospel could not transform this nation. The average church size was less than 30 with many Christians and pastors age 70 or older. Persecution during the 1600s wiped out Christianity in the country and in 2017 only one percent of Japan’s 127 million population claimed Christian beliefs or affiliation.

Rod and Viv rejected that premise from the beginning.

“I said in my heart, that when you [the enemy] took one, I’m going to take 10,000 for Jesus.”

Lifehouse Church today welcomes nearly 4,500 people across its many campuses. The Tokyo campus averages about 2,000 people and has become the largest pentecostal church in the most-populated metro area in the world: 38 million. The Osaka campus, 300 miles southwest of Tokyo, has grown to 600, making it the largest known church in the history of this city with a population of 17 million.

Lifehouse Church

Lifehouse International Church is a bilingual church in English and Japanese. The church is filled with love, life and joy. It’s a group of people who love to get together each week to love God and love others. It’s fun, alive and life changing.

The Kyoto campus launched with the help of River Valley Church Kingdom Builders’ giving, $100,000, and a team of 12 Minnesotans serving on the first Global Team Japan.

Today Japan is widely considered one of the most secular nations in the world. The country has one of the world’s best economies, is a leader in technological advancement, has one of the best-educated societies, is revered for its ancient culture and art, and is one of the safest places on earth.

A recent U.S. News and World Report study rated Japan the fifth best country in the world, scored on a set of 65 country attributes based on a collection of individual surveys. The United States ranked seventh. Out of 10, Japan received a 9.5. However, a closer look shows one of the country’s lowest scoring attributes was happiness, receiving just 3.2. Family friendly earned just 3.8. The suicide rate is the sixth highest in the world and second worst among the eight major nations, according to the most recent World Health Organization report.

When we first came here, a girl in our church committed suicide and it was a terrible thing,” said Luke Kennedy, Lifehouse Church pastor of the Kyoto and Osaka campuses. “I said in my heart, that when you [the enemy] took one, I’m going to take 10,000 for Jesus. Now, I say every time someone is baptized, ‘One more! There is one more for you, God.’”

The launch of the Kyoto campus concluded with seven individuals responding to the invitation to follow Jesus. Kennedy proclaimed after the service, “I believe we will see the answers to the prayers that thousands of martyrs prayed half a millennium ago.”

TREKKING THE HIMALAYAS

How generosity drives us to reach the lost

The vehicle is a dusty, Jeep Rubicon, and the setting is the meandering roads in the foothills of the Himalayas in northern India. These barely-paved roads are only wide enough for one small car, but the locals have developed a language to safely traverse these routes – one honk when approaching a curve, and a continual horn while rounding it.

Having lived in India for the last 12 years, James can barely remember what it was like to drive in relative silence on the right side of the road. Playing his part in the local car horn symphony, he now navigates the hairpin turns with ease. Although James isn't sure if he was really called to be a missionary in India, he knows that someone has to do it.

With a population of 1.2 billion, there are more than 2,000 unreached people groups in the country of India. There is a reason why the people in this region are largely unreached. Even after conquering the harrowing daylong drive from the foothills, the journey to reach these people is far from over. The road eventually narrows to a trail only passable on foot, and a multi-day trek begins.

James spends India's dryer months leading trekkers eager to learn how to share the Gospel with people who have never heard the name of Jesus. He has made this trek dozens of times and has built relationships with people in each village, seeing several of them come to know the Lord through his consistent interactions with them.

As a LiveDead missionary supported by Kingdom Builders, James doesn't take generosity for granted. The Jeep he drives was funded by the generosity of others. Several times a month, this Jeep makes the 10-hour drive north transporting missionaries and Global Team trekkers, supplies and food, and most importantly, the hope of Jesus.

While our comfort zone seems safest in a world in turmoil, Jesus continues to call us to go and make disciples of all nations. With the gift of salvation comes the burden of the Great Commission. Until every ear has heard the name of Jesus Christ, we must continue to pray, send, and go.

LOVE THY NEIGHBOR

Crosstown campus fulfills vision to expand local church in southwest metro

At first glance, the map depicts nothing out of the ordinary. Four push pins anchor the laminated three feet by two feet map of the greater Twin Cities metro to a wall at the River Valley Church campus formerly known as the Edina Area campus. Yellow and pink post-it tabs scattered across cities are barely noticeable.

The significance of this map, however, is much more than just wall art. It represents the vision and fulfillment of the future home of the Crosstown campus.

On December 2, 2017, River Valley lead Pastor Rob Ketterling announced we fulfilled our 2017 Kingdom Builders goal, and the $2 million needed to begin construction of the new Crosstown building and home in Minnetonka.

Our vision is to reach the Twin Cities area with a series of local churches minutes from their home where they can invite neighbors, friends and co-workers. This vision for one church, multiple locations began when the key leaders pulled out the map that now hangs on the office wall and began identifying possible future campus locations.

Edina and the neighboring communities were among the first cities Pastor Rob felt called to reach. His father Bob worked at Edina Key Cadillac most of his life, and Pastor Rob had the vision to minister to the people his dad served for so many years.

River Valley has since grown to eight campuses throughout the Twin Cities metro and one in Swaziland, Africa.

Building the local church is one of Kingdom Builders' core values. More than $3 million was raised for the expansion of the Edina Area campus, now Crosstown, and Apple Valley campuses in 2017. The Edina Area campus has raised more than $3 million over the past two years for the building project.

"The local church is vital to the expansion of Jesus Christ's Kingdom around the world," Pastor Anthony Richards, Crosstown Campus Pastor, said. "It's definitely part of the vision."

"Our neighbor needs Jesus just as much as the person on the other side of the world. Both are important. The local church is a place for people who are our neighbors, friends, coworkers and relatives to come find Jesus, and find their hope, calling and purpose in Him."

River Valley searched for a location in Edina for several years, yet no doors opened. The search eventually shifted to neighboring cities and in 2016 the city of Minnetonka welcomed the church into its community.

The new Crosstown campus building is centrally located within two miles or less of four major highways and visible from Crosstown Highway 62, where more than 30,000 cars pass by each day.

"It was God opening the door and rolling out the red carpet," Pastor Rob said. "I just felt God say, 'I'm giving you this so you can reach everybody around the Crosstown arterial. From Eden Prairie, Minnetonka, Hopkins, St. Louis Park, Richfield, Bloomington and Edina.'"

“One of the things that is very strategic about this location is it will allow us to launch campuses because of where we draw people from.”

Tracy Greer, her husband Darren and their two boys, began attending the Edina Area campus in 2013 with a heart to help plant a church. In “The local church is a place for people who are our neighbors, friends, coworkers and relatives to come find Jesus, and find their hope, calling and purpose in Him”

April 2017, the Greers moved to Chaska believing the new Crosstown campus would one day help launch a future River Valley location in their community.

The couple began leading a family lifegroup in Chaska and continues to help raise up future leaders in their city.

“We have excitement of what is to come, where there are people in need, to have a local church that is right in the community embracing the families,” Tracy said. “Now we’re waiting, praying and connecting.”

The Crosstown Campus is expected to open its doors to the surrounding communities and welcome many new people in late 2018.

EXPANDING INTO THE CAPITAL CITY

River Valley Church launches ninth domestic campus into the heart of culture and politics.

A sweep across the downtown skyline reveals two towering domes representing the long-established religious culture and the political prowess of an otherwise humble city. Well established in the other Twin City, River Valley is building off the success of Minneapolis with Saint Paul to be the newest home to a River Valley Campus that hopes to make Jesus the center of this ever-changing city.

Its people define the vibe of every city, and Saint Paul is no exception. Many first-generation immigrants have settled here since the beginning, creating vibrant communities and a diverse socioeconomic landscape. As we follow God's lead to launch a campus in Saint Paul, we are embracing the variety of backgrounds in the community and believe it to be a beautiful expression of God's design for His church.

Saint Paul is also home to several universities, colleges, and seminaries. Investing in the students and faculty of these schools allows us to influence the future of organizations, government, business and more for generations to come. We often say we would give anything to reach the next generation and a strong presence in these schools will lead the way in our vision for growth.

Now is the time to expand into Saint Paul and God has raised up leaders from within our church to lead the way. Pastor Davey and Nicole Collins have served faithfully as volunteers, interns, and youth pastors at our Apple Valley campus for the last several years. "We are so excited and honored to be stepping into our YES by launching our ninth campus! We know as Saint Paul is our state capital, with strong pillars of business, religion and entertainment – we need to make Jesus the center of this city."

When we launch a new campus, we do so prayerfully and strategically. We believe God has called us into the city to serve people, lead people to an authentic, life-changing relationship with Jesus and send people as missionaries across the world. Kingdom Builders will be instrumental in launching this new campus in the fall of 2018.

RAISING UP FUTURE KINGDOM BUILDERS

River Valley youth finding purpose and direction on Global Teams

River Valley NextGen Pastor Terry Parkman saw generosity through a new lens when he joined the church staff nearly three years ago, “I believe the generosity that River Valley has through Kingdom Builders, by funding students one time in their high school career to go on a Global Team, helps them to get that change of pace and place so they can hear from God in a brand new and unique way.”

Maddie Gjorvad experienced this for the first time at age 14 during her first youth Global Team to El Salvador. The next year she traveled to India and in June 2018 will be sponsored by Kingdom Builders for the first time to travel to Thailand.

Gjorvad and friend Tina Sheehan, both 16-year-olds at Prior Lake High School and part of the Shakopee campus, started the lifegroup “Girls on a Mission” and now leads “Youth Global Talk.”

God often reminds Gjorvad during lifegroup conversations how He spoke to her while on Global Teams.

During a prayer walk through Rishikesh, India, she remembers, “The Lord said, ‘You’ve seen the harvest and you’ve seen the laborers, will you go?’ It is an ongoing process of continuing to say yes to God, whether that means moving across the world or reaching my neighbors here in the United States.”

“When River Valley sends students on Global Teams, we get closer to God and realize more about His calling and purpose for us. It shows how much River Valley believes in the next generation and how much they can change the world.”

The mantra of our students at River Valley YTH is “Pray. Give. Go.” in regards to generosity. We believe that when a student prays for God’s will and needs in His Kingdom, their heart becomes ignited with passion for the lost. When they give, they make themselves part of the solution. When they go, they get a heart for what God is doing all across the globe. They develop a desire to be a part of the Kingdom-building change God wants to bring to earth.

For the last several years, our youth ministry has been part of the top three giving youth ministries in the country, and the highest giving youth ministry for the previous two years. Each year has been record-breaking, with this year being no different, as our students gave almost $166,000 to Kingdom Builders! This doesn’t happen overnight; instead, each year builds on the last as our students continuously live in a culture of generosity.

MADE FOR MORE

12-year-old uses talents to raise thousands for Kingdom Builders

The dining room table in the Fletcher home is often covered in beads, wires and tools. A large surface is necessary for 12-year-old Gabi Fletcher to set up her workshop where she can piece together bracelets, necklaces and other accessories.

The custom jewelry pieces ranging from $8 to $22 have become popular beyond just friends and family. The products often sell out at events including Sparkle, River Valley's annual women's conference.

The total sales Gabi began accruing would inflate any person's piggy bank or make nice spending cash. Gabi had other plans for the money.

"I've had a missionary heart since I was younger. So about two-and-a-half years ago my friend Gabby Pahl started selling scarves to raise money for Kingdom Builders and that really inspired me. So I just kept praying about the goal God was going to place on my heart and He placed $5,000. I was able to reach that goal this year!"

"I still want to be a missionary. I can't go now. But just giving, that's a little bit of being a missionary when you're younger."

On Kingdom Builders Miracle Offering weekend, Gabi walked to the altar and handed off the final $1,000 to complete the exceptional goal.

Before Gabi took her first breath outside mother Jennifer's womb, the parents knew she would be a special child.

About six weeks into Jennifer's pregnancy, she required emergency surgery after nearly losing her life from internal bleeding and lost the baby due to complications from an ectopic pregnancy. Four days later, a follow-up ultrasound revealed another heartbeat. Jennifer learned she had been pregnant with twins.

"That was Gabi," she proclaimed about the surprise news.

Yet, doctors warned the couple the remaining pregnancy would be high risk and presented the option to terminate at 20 weeks. Instead, the Fletchers chose to stand on God's Word and rebuked the fear of the possible outcomes doctors instilled in the couple.

Gabi was born on July 18, 2005. She battled complications and a poor diagnosis in the days after birth, but today is a healthy 12-year-old.

“She fought really hard to get here,” Jennifer said. “So it was just clear that God had a special plan upon her life and the enemy has tried to harm that quite a bit. So we just exercised our faith from the very beginning of her life, from conception to now.

“This [commitment to Kingdom Builders and missions] is confirmation God has really amazing plans for her. It is a miracle I’m alive, and a miracle she’s alive and who she is.”

At age 7, Gabi shared with her mom, “God told me I would one day be a missionary.” Since that young age, the stories Gabi would hear from missionaries in Go Kids at the Shakopee campuses have inspired her to do more.

She believes no matter what age you are or how God has called you to give, you can give.

“I think it’s really cool all the money that goes in Kingdom Builders and how many lives it touches,” Gabi said. “We don’t always see it, but believing that it is going to go and multiply in other people’s lives, and hopefully bring them to Jesus”.

“I still want to be a missionary. I can’t go now. But just giving, that’s a little bit of being a missionary when you’re younger.”

THE HISTORICAL IMPACT OF KINGDOM BUILDERS

The Birth of Kingdom Builders

Years ago, River Valley was raising money for buildings and raising money for missions, separate from one another. When we raised money for buildings, we went way over and above - and then dropped down, and didn't raise as much money for missions. Then we realized there has to be a better way to do more than just build buildings. They're important, but we are on mission for more than buildings - we are called to reach the world for God!

It was then that Kingdom Builders was birthed. It was that desire to do more to build the Kingdom of God. We can do something globally on a grand scale; we can do something locally on a grand scale; we can do something for future Christian leaders and invest in the next generation.

It's more than money - it's mission, it's people, it's making a difference. See the people, not the globe, that need to hear the Gospel for the first time. People's lives are being changed!

Through Kingdom Builders, it gives meaning to the over-and-above giving to advance the Kingdom of God. It's about Jesus, His Church, and the least of these.

Over the last nine years, Kingdom Builders has given over $26.5 million to missionaries, ministries and organizations all over the world.

$6.5 MILLION

2018 Kingdom Builders Goal

STEP INTO THE YES

We invite everyone to be a part of the Gospel life change that's taking place in people's lives globally, locally, and inside the hearts of our future leaders through Kingdom Builders. Now is the time to step into the Yes – step into giving, step up to generosity, and step out in faith. There is a supernatural power when everyone is involved.

Everyone is part of this vision.

How will you make a difference in 2018?

STEP IN

Step in for the first time - begin giving to Kingdom Builders today, why wait?

STEP UP

Step up to new levels of generosity – increase your commitment to what God is doing through the Kingdom Builders community and lead the way!

STEP OUT

Step out in faith – reach further than you ever imagined and watch how God takes you on an adventure of generosity and faith!

We are blessed to be a blessing.
