

River Valley Church Counselor Referral List

The following is a list of professional Christian counselors in our community that have been approved by River Valley Church. We have screened all of these centers and are willing to list them here. We want to remind you that an effective counseling relationship is dependent on how well you connect with your counselor. We encourage you to contact two or three potential counselors and use the guidelines below to help find the best possible match.

Before contacting any counselor we encourage you to check with your insurance provider to find out if they cover counseling or mental health services. Be sure to get the details of your plan coverage. Ask if they allow you to go to “out of network” providers.

Guidelines for Choosing a Counselor

Here are some recommended questions to ask when looking for a Christian counselor.

- What is your education/training?
- What is your licensure status? (There are three types of mental health licensure in MN: (LP) Licensed Psychologist, (LMFT) Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist, and (LICSW) Licensed Independent Clinical Social Worker.
Minnesota allows people to counsel without a license. Insurance will not cover services if the counselor is not licensed. Licensure and education are not a guarantee of how effective your sessions will be, but are a good indicator of the experience that each counselor has.)
- What are your areas of specialty?
- Without providing specifics, can you describe what type of experience and training you have for my specific problem?
- What is your relationship with Christ? How do you use that in your practice?

- ❑ What are your fees? Do you take my insurance? Do you offer a sliding-scale for payment? What are your billing practices? Monthly? At the time of service?
- ❑ How long will my sessions be?
- ❑ How often will I need to be seen?
- ❑ How long do you anticipate that I will need your services?
- ❑ What happens if I am in need of an emergency appointment?
- ❑ What happens if I need to cancel an appointment?

After going through the interview process, think and pray about your decision. Make the best decision you can based on the information that you obtained. You want to be sure to find the counselor that best fits your needs. You are “hiring” this counselor. If, after the first session or two, you are not comfortable with your choice, it may be a good idea to look into a different option. Counseling can be a very difficult and stressful process. It is possible to experience a certain amount of anxiety and discomfort. Try to determine whether your problem is related to the counselor, or the issue with which you are working to heal.

When and How to End Counseling

Ultimately, when to end counseling is your decision. There are some issues that require a longer term of treatment while others may be effectively dealt with in just several sessions. Be sure to discuss your progress with your counselor on a regular basis and agree together about the timing of concluding your sessions.

If you need any further guidance or have questions about professional counseling, please email care@rivervalley.org or call River Valley Church at 952-997-2222.

Brighter Days Grief Center

<https://www.brighterdaysgriefcenter.org/about-us/>

Brighter Days Grief Center is a newly established nonprofit organization serving individuals anticipating or enduring the death of a beloved family member. Their free programs are designed to address the financial, academic, and psycho social aspects of grief. By partnering with other grief related organizations, they provide compassionate and tailored resources and programs that are specific to each family member. Additionally, they work tirelessly to bring awareness to schools, communities, and organizations to make sure families receive compassionate and appropriate support in all settings.
